

ANNEX "A" TO THE MARKETNAIL CONTRACT

ECONOMIC AND TRADE AGREEMENT TERMS

between the Company _____ hereinafter Third Party Provider

and the Company Beautymarketplace Srls (info at the bottom of the document) from now on E-Marketer

The following is defined:

Given that the mission of the commercial collaboration between the two companies is to procure sales of products and services between the Third Party Provider hosted in the Marketnail platform and the Professional Operators registered in the same.

In this document, which is an attachment but is also an integral part of the Commercial Contract of the (contract date) _____ signed by the Parties mentioned above, we want to define the economic conditions between E-Marketer and the Third Party Provider.

In the case of a sale, realized through the correct insertion of an order in the cart by a Professional Operator, the Third Party Provider will receive, together with the order, the payment, in the predefined methods and systems, with the deduction of:

10% (ten percent)

as commission due to the E-Marketer due to the services offered to the Third Party Provider

We specify that prices, discounts, deliveries and related timing will be decided exclusively by the Third Party Provider and kept in the promises by the same, in compliance with what is proposed and highlighted in the descriptions included in the Portal

There are no other costs, fees, penalties or other forms of remuneration. The standard costs of payment systems (PayPal, Credit Cards, etc.) will be borne only by the Third Party Provider. We want to reiterate that if sales do not materialize there will be no cost for the Third Party Provider.

Any changes in percentages, must be communicated by the E-Marketer to the Third Party Provider, which reserves the right to accept and, in case of consent, will return with communication of legal value, the replacement of Annex "A" updated to, which, duly signed by both parties, will replace the previous Annex.
